CIRCULAR

It is generally observed that the officers/officials who are deployed on election duty remain absent from their parent office even on the days they are not required for such election duty.

The competent authority has taken cognisance of the issue and has directed that all the employees who are engaged with election duty shall attend the office on the days they are not required for such election duty. Non-attendance to the office, when there is no requirement for the purposes of election duty will attract disciplinary proceedings against the errant officers/officials. Further, the attendance of the staff during the polling duty days should be verified by the concerned Election Officer/SDM.
